Part 5

Questions 36 – 40

The young people below all want to find a café to go to in their town.

On the opposite page there are reviews of eight cafés.

Decide which café would be the most suitable for the following people.

For questions 36 – 40, write the correct letter (A – H) in the box.

36

Hayley wants to go to a café in town with her classmates after school finishes in the afternoon. They all like listening to music while they're talking, and eating hot snacks.

[1]

37

Carlos and his family want somewhere to take his grandfather where they can spend time outside together. They like watching live sport, drinking good coffee and eating desserts.

[1]

38

Martina and her friends want a friendly café in town where they can have a quick lunch before they go shopping on Saturday. They'd like somewhere that also serves great ice creams.

[1]

39

Fero and his father want to go to a quiet café near the river at the weekend, where Fero can watch TV while his father looks at the newspapers. They like to have a cooked lunch.

[1]

40

Ingrid and Charlotte want a quiet café with free internet access, even if it's a bit out of town. Their favourite drink is hot chocolate, and they like buying cakes to take home.

[1]

Cafés in Redbridge

A Roland's

At Roland's there's a big garden so you can sit outside if you don't like the TV inside. There are newspapers and magazines available for customers to read, and free internet. Their hot and cold lunches are fantastic, although it's busy and quite noisy at weekends so you have to queue for food.

B Hiltons

This café has welcoming staff, and is located near the big department stores, so it's perfect for people coming into town at weekends who haven't much time to spare. Their salads and sandwiches are delicious, and their freshly-baked sweet rolls and chocolate ices are the best in the city!

C Purple

This friendly first-floor café near the sports stadium is famous for its hot and cold snacks served throughout the day, although it's often crowded, so you have to wait for food. However, they serve delicious cakes and ice creams. While you're waiting, read the sports, fashion and music magazines provided for customers.

D Meadowlands

This café's perfect for people wanting to read magazines or daily papers or have a hot midday meal in peace. There's a television inside the café, or you can sit outside beside the river and watch the tourist boats go past.

E Kings Café

This café has great music posters on the walls, and you can surf the web for nothing! It's peaceful and never too busy, and serves delicious drinks, hot and cold! There's also a bakery selling cakes. It's definitely worth the short walk from the town centre.

F Clouds

This central café has big sofas to relax on and it's a good place to spend time with friends in town. The food is great here, with fantastic freshly-made pizza! The owner loves hip-hop and pop, so that's usually playing in the café. It's often crowded at weekends.

G Pierre's

This out-of-town riverside café is popular with young musicians, so it's decorated with pop posters and even has live music in the afternoons, performed by college students. It takes time to be served when it's busy, but it's worth the wait for the home-made cakes and hot chocolate!

H Corner Café

This café is popular with people of all ages, and the drinks, cakes and ice creams are the best anywhere. It's a short walk from town, next to the football field, so customers can sit at tables on the grass and see the matches, and the boats going past on the river.

Part 6

Questions 41 – 45

Read the text and questions below.

For each question, circle the correct letter A, B, C or D.

"Hanging Around"
by Joanna Banks, 13 years old

I was a bit nervous when I went to the activity camp. I'd never been away completely on my own before, not for a whole weekend. Dad drove me there and then stayed for a while because I think he was worried about me. Eventually, I told him to go and promised him I'd call him if I wasn't enjoying it.

The worst bit was all the waiting around for the groups to be organised. There were lots of teenagers running around and shouting and, as I didn't know anyone, I felt quite uncomfortable. Eventually, I got put into my group and went off for the first activity. That's when it started getting really good. The special four-wheeled motorbikes called quad bikes were great, only I couldn't control mine very well. I crashed a couple of times and everyone laughed, but in a nice way, so it was alright.

The most frightening thing was the climbing wall. It was very high so I was afraid. But the instructor was really nice, and for my first attempt he got me to just put on safety equipment and he pulled me up. Amazingly, I wasn't worried any more and I ended up doing it properly and it was fantastic, the best activity of all.

I think everyone should go on an activity weekend, even if they are a bit nervous. Nobody is made to do anything they can't manage. You needn't worry about not knowing anybody because the others don't know anybody either. You can make friends. You do loads of amazing things that you can't do at home. It's good; in fact it's better than that, it's brilliant!

41 What is Joanna Banks doing in the text?

- A explaining how to do a particular activity
- B talking about a weekend away at an activity camp
- C suggesting activities for teenagers to do
- D comparing the activities offered at different camps

42 How did Joanna feel to begin with?

- A anxious about being alone in a new place
- B annoyed because her father waited for a long time
- C worried that her father would not call her
- D certain that she would not enjoy herself

[1]

43 Why was the first activity slow to start?

- A the teenagers had to get to know each other
- B not everyone had arrived
- C there were not enough bikes for everyone
- D it took time to sort out the groups

[1]

44 What does Joanna say about the climbing wall?

- A It is very dangerous.
- B The equipment was difficult to use.
- C The instructor climbed up beside her.
- D It became less frightening after a while.

[1]

45 What might Joanna say to her friends about her experience?

A

I know dad worried that people would laugh at me when I couldn't do the activities, but he was wrong.

B

Although I had a few doubts at first, I loved almost every minute of it. And I got over my fear of heights.

C

Everyone will tell you that I was quite good at riding the bikes, but that is because we've got one at home.

D

We were made to do all the activities, which I thought was a bit unfair.
